Get Chicks Lit 5035L

Whining is something both sexes do. But wine has traditionally been a man thing, according to people in the grape world who have apparently never been to a cocktail party. So they've been rolling out labels like Mad Housewife, Seduction and Working Girl to appeal to the fairer sex. The latest woman wine is LULU B.

(see boissetamerica.com for buying info), a French import available in Syrah, Chardonnay and Pinot Noir. It's more about a gimmicky label (with a sexy beret-wearing lady) than the taste, which is fairly standard for a $10 bottle — nothing to swoon over, but entirely inoffensive and fruity. And it's a cinch to open with its screw-top cap. VICKY HALLETT (EXPRESS)
